
List of Closed Private Career Colleges Student Records Retained at the Private Career Colleges Division

The Private Career Colleges Division is the custodian of student records from closed colleges in Nova Scotia. However, there was no requirement to retain student records prior to the regulatory changes in 1998. In some cases we have the student records for colleges which closed after that period.

Under the current legislation all private colleges are required to submit copies of transcripts and certificates/diplomas for any student who attends.

This is complete list of student records retained at the Private Career Colleges Division. If the college you attended is not listed, unfortunately the Private Career Colleges Division does not have any student records.
